What is Local Flavors?

Local Flavors is a farm-to-table series connecting local farmers, local restaurants, and the public to offer meals highlighting fresh, seasonal, and locally produced foods. Participating restaurants across Illinois will purchase locally produced foods from area farmers to create a special menu item (or several) that highlight the best of what central Illinois has to offer. Your establishment will be able to showcase your unique expertise while utilizing fresh, high quality foods.

How it works

Illinois Stewardship Alliance, sponsors of the Buy Fresh Buy Local campaign and Local Flavors series, does the marketing (along with our partners.) We will reach out to media, distribute promotional materials, and connect with social media.

You design the specials. You can decide to offer one special, or several. You could create an entire menu of locally sourced items for the day, or offer a tasting menu. It's up to you. As long as you are showcasing fresh, seasonal, local ingredients as much as possible, the sky is the limit.

When is It?

One lunch and one dinner will be held each month, June-October in each of the following four cities: Bloomington-Normal, Champaign-Urbana, Springfield, and Peoria. Lunches will be held the first Tuesday of each month and dinners will be held the third Thursday of each month.
